Hi, I'm Yvonne

My life has always had challenges, but it consists mostly of fun and adventure.

Many people were raised by their parents or at least one of them. Since neither one of them was around during essential years, other people raised me along with three (3) siblings. The life styles from different people who we lived with, taught us things that would not have been known.

None of these people went to church or had any desire to go.

When living with my mother, it was the opposite.

---

THE PAINS FROM THE PAST NEVER LEFT. HER SIBLINGS DIDN'T GO TO CHURCH AND FAMILY MEMBERS WERE DISCOURAGED.

THEY HAD BEEN RAISED IN AN UNHEALTHY CHURCH ENVIRONMENT.

Getting Started

Questions people ask:

1. If there is a God, why does He allow Suffering?
He does not allow suffering. Mankind has taken upon himself to not seek God and make their own rules.
2. Is there any evidence that a superior being exist?
Many evidence point to there being a God.
The entire universe shows His work: planets, stars, trees, grass, and balance in nature.
3. Why are there so many religions?
Religions are formed when people get together and make up their own rules.
4. How do you know God is Real?
The formation of our DNA shows that a master plan has taken place. Not something random event where things just came together.
5. If He exist, why is He hidden.
As far as seeing Him face to face, it cannot happen since He is a Spirit. He does reveal Himself in other ways.

Concerns

One day while sitting waiting for a glass to be fixed, a guy saw me reading. He asked what it was about.

Then he went on to say that there is no god since man can do everything they want. My response was that they cannot hold up the sun. He said that they are working on it. My last response was "who is holding it up until they figure out how to do it"? After that he left.

Some people believe in Darwin's theory of Evolution. There is no god and everything just came together by itself through chance.

However, in this lifetime over 1,000 PhDs have signed a document stating they no longer trust his theory.

A renown professor, Dr. Major D. Coleman has researched all the doctrines from this theory and proved there is no evidence that people evolved from nothing. Also, it is not true that all creation has come from one cell.

This workbook is made to assist you in finding the truth. These steps have been proven to work not only for me but others. My goal is to lead you in the right direction. Then you will have your own personal experience and enjoy your life. There are so many questions without answers. However, we have to start somewhere before many of those questions can be answered.

My Story

When I was about eight (8) years old, my uncle and aunt sent us to a Presbyterian church at the end of the block. They never went to church and never did any of my relatives. Later it was known that that was a way for them to have a few hours to themselves. Four (4) children are quite a bit, and especially when they are not your own. God was never even mentioned in our family until there was some type of negative connotation. For example, God helps those to help themselves. They had been raised in a church setting and disagreed with what had transpired there.

In Sunday School, we were given coloring books with a picture of Jesus on the front cover. He had blond hair and blue eyes. It was very easy to know how he looked.

The inside of the book was colored according to his attire and physical look. No kid thought anything about it. They made sure we knew that he was a Jew.

This was the extend of anything known about Jesus except on Christmas or Easter when we got new clothes and attended church for an hour. Our focus was on the new clothes and gifts we received.

At about 14 years old, while walking down the street in Detroit I saw an olive faced man with very dark curls on both sides of his head that nearly touched his shoulder. He also wore some type of small beanie on his head. It was shocking to see a person like that. My friends had seen a person of that caliber before, but not me. "What kind of person is that" I said. They laughed and said, that is a Jew. What? That is crazy. What is wrong with you. He couldn't be a Jew I said. Then just shook my head as not to draw more attention to myself.

Being an inquisitive person, makes me analyze everything. They lied to us in church!

That started my unbelief in Jesus. If anyone came to me with that crap, they would be cursed out; and they were. Talking about God was okay but not that big lie.

Fifteen (15) years later, a movie called "Late Great Planet Earth", got me thinking. My girlfriend who went to the movie with me had no idea when questioned about God. Even though her father was a pastor, her knowledge was limited. She believed but could not answer my question.

One question was, what does God want us to? She had no clue. So other people were questioned. They didn't know either. I walked around for weeks looking up at the sky saying "This is Impossible". How can this be. If God made us, who made Him. It became an obsession.

About a month later while at the doctor's office, a real weird thing happened. Something could be felt in the room. The doctor had left and I was ready to run out the door and then he walked in. You see, there is an unseen realm that we know nothing about. Some people have dreams that come true, others can see things in the Spirit World that most people don't see.

I was reading books searching to find any answer.

One day while home alone the television was turned on. TV is not my thing. Watching a show or two is fine if there is nothing else to do. The first show that came up was a Christian program. Christian TV shows were new to me..

For about a week when home alone, the TV was turned on. Some of those ministers didn't seem to be real and the program was turned off. One day, a very different looking man was talking about Jesus. At that time, I just needed answers and as long as the minister never said that Jesus was a white, I was okay. He asked people to accept Jesus as their savior, and I did. Still wasn't sure what was going on.

The next day after work, I went into the living room and asked into the air, not expecting much, but received an out-of-this-world experience.

First question: If you are real God let me know.

Then something felt like liquid going from the top of my head to the bottom of my feet. Standing up was a problem. The feeling was like the one in the doctors' office. Someone was there but could not be seen with the physical eyes.

Next question: Is Jesus your son?

The same thing happened but not as intense.

Last question: Is the Bible your word.

Less intense but the same liquid came all over.

Last question: Is the Bible your word?

The least intense, but the same liquid came all over.

It was so scary, and needed to get out of there

After getting answers to those three (3) questions, I knew it was time to get a bible.

Drove to K-Mart to find a Bible. There were so many of them. Someone had given me a Bible in Chicago, but it was hard to read. So here I am in Indianapolis and don't know how to select one.

While going through the pages I heard, "pick one that says Mary was a Virgin". It was a modern day Bible that was easy to read. There were pictures and a chart for both the New and Old Testaments. Every time you read a chapter you could mark it off in the chart. This helped you to know when it was completely finished.

I loved this bible and started reading it every day. My whole life changed and I became a different person.

It is such a lovely life. We can only find so much happiness in earthly things.

There is so much out there in the unknown for us to learn and grow further in our journey.

Your Journey Continues

I want to say that I have had many, many experiences in the Father, Son and Holy Spirit, and it continues. But what does that have to do with you? I am able to tell you about my experiences.

That is not enough cause you need to find out for yourself. Guessing is not an option.

The first step is being sincere. Do you really want to know the truth. Forget about all the pass questions others may have or even things you wondered about.

The only true Supreme Being has His set of rules, and we must follow them in order to learn about Him.

- Get alone where there are no interruptions and ask God if He exist.
- Wait for His Answer.
- Write down the things He says.

In order to get what you need to grow into the person that the Father has for you, your dependency must be on Him.
